

1- Can you determine the total sales amount per country and visualize this data using a bar chart?

2- Can you analyze the number of boxes shipped per product type and represent this information in a pie chart?

3-Can you explore how sales amounts have changed over time and plot this trend using a line graph?

4- Can you investigate the correlation between the sales amount and the number of boxes shipped using a scatter plot?